A Biography of a Map in Motion Christian J. Koot, 2018 Reveals the little known history of one of history's most famous maps and its maker Tucked away in a near forgotten collection Virginia and Maryland as it is Planted and Inhabited is one of the most extraordinary maps of colonial British America Created by a colonial merchant planter and diplomat named Augustine Herrman the map pictures the Mid Atlantic in breathtaking detail capturing its waterways coastlines and communities Herrman spent three decades travelling between Dutch New Amsterdam and the English Chesapeake before eventually settling in Maryland and making this map Although the map has been reproduced widely the history of how it became one of the most famous images of the Chesapeake has never been told A Biography of a Map in Motion uncovers the intertwined stories of the map and its maker offering new insights into the creation of empire in North America The book follows the map from the waterways of the Chesapeake to the workshops of London where it was turned into a print and sold Transported into coffee houses private rooms and government offices Virginia and Maryland became an apparatus of empire that allowed English elites to imaginatively possess and accurately manage their Atlantic colonies Investigating this map offers the rare opportunity to recapture the complementary and occasionally conflicting forces that created the British Empire From the colonial and the metropolitan to the economic and the political to the local and the Atlantic this is a fascinating exploration of the many meanings of a map and how what some saw as establishing a sense of local place could translate to forging an empire

Putting "America" on the Map Seymour I. Schwartz, 2007 In 1507 the Waldseemüller World Map was created It was the first time a map included the continental landmasses in the Western Hemisphere The name America was inserted on the southern continent Since then it has been surrounded by many intrigues

American Women's History Susan Ware, 2015 What does American history look like with women at the center of the story From Pocahontas to military women serving in the Iraqi war this Very Short Introduction chronicles the contributions that women have made to the American experience from a multicultural perspective that emphasizes how gender shapes women's and men's lives

The Geographic Revolution in Early America Martin Brückner, 2006 The rapid rise in popularity of maps and geography handbooks in the eighteenth century ushered in a new geographic literacy among non elite Americans This illustrated book argues that geographic literacy as it was played out in popular literary genres significantly influenced the formation of identity in America from the 1680s to the 1820s

The First Mapping of America Alex Johnson, 2017-08-23 The First Mapping of America tells the story of the General Survey At the heart of the story lie the remarkable maps and the men who made them the commanding and highly professional Samuel Holland Surveyor General in the North and the brilliant but mercurial William Gerard De Brahm Surveyor General in the South Battling both physical and political obstacles Holland and

De Brahm sought to establish their place in the firmament of the British hierarchy Yet the reality in which they had to operate was largely controlled from afar by Crown administrators in London and the colonies and by wealthy speculators whose approval or opposition could make or break the best laid plans as they sought to use the Survey for their own ends
